These sentences use the nine most common prepositions in English: at, by, for, from, in, of, on, to, and with. Underline the prepositional phrases in each sentence, and then write original sentences that use the same prepositions. Underline your prepositional phrases.

Example:
Babe Ruth is probably the most famous player in baseball history.

My brother is the smartest computer programmer in Calhoun County.

1. In a book by Mary Karr called The Liars’ Club, the life in an East Texas refinery town in the 1960s looks distinctly unattractive.

2. The future for space stations is uncertain, especially in today’s economic climate.

3. People should view solar eclipses only with proper eye protection.

4. In one school of thought, life on earth began somewhere else in the universe.

5. Contrary to other liquids, water freezes from the top.

6. At the surface of the hottest star, the temperature might be 200,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

7. Passover is a Jewish holiday celebrated from the fourteenth to the twenty-second of Nisan in the Jewish calendar, or sometime in March or April.
8. Quartz clocks use the vibrations of quartz crystals driving a motor at a precise rate.

9. With the increase of pollution after World War II, unrestrained waste and use of chemicals were seen by many people as a threat to the planet.

10. The CDC (Centers for Disease Control and Prevention) based in Atlanta, Georgia, provides consultation on an international basis for the control of preventable diseases.